Chalet Sorojasa, Verbier (sleeps 10)

Chalet Sorojasa is a hidden gem, and one of only a handful of chalets in Verbier that comes with its own private indoor swimming pool. The chalet is only 200 metres from the main Medran lift station, but in a quiet, secluded spot away from the hustle and bustle of the resort.

This free-standing chalets has four floors and its own lift. The top floor is dedicated to a stylish open plan living, dining and kitchen area with a stone fireplace at its heart. Double height French windows lead out onto one of the chalet's balconies. Chalet Sorojasa is perched near the edge of Verbier's south-facing plateau, giving it dramatic views down to the Val de Bagnes and across to the Mont Blanc Massif beyond.

The five en suite bedrooms are spread over two floors and on the lower ground floor is the 11-metre indoor swimming pool, the ultimate place for an après-ski chill-out. There is also a steam room, as well as home cinema, bar and games room with table football. Chalet Sorojasa's guests are catered for by an outstanding professional chef and chalet host. Our in-resort driving service is on call 24 hours a day, taking you wherever you want, whenever you need.
